MARSHAL LU YUNG-HSIANG.

CHEKIANG CHIEF INTERVIEWED.

BLAMES NANKING FOR WAR.

(Reuter's Service.)

SHANGHAI, September 1.
General Lu Yung-hsiang, interviewed by the "North China Daily News," said: "If war is to be avoided, Nanking must make war impossible. I want peace, but Nanking has made war, and it is up to Nanking to make peace."

Lu Yung-hsiang declared that according to an article in last year's pact, if any army came from other province into the territory of either Chi Hsieh-yuan or himself, that army was to be disarmed and disbanded. The Fukien divisions, to which the Chihli party object, came into Chekiang by way of Kiangsu. Chi Hsieh-yuan was also the Inspector-General of Kiangsu, and these troops, Lu Yunghsiang contended, should have been disarmed by Chi Hsieh-yuan. Instead they were permitted to come to the boundaries of Chekiang. He could have disarmed them, but they would probably have turned bandits, so he took the wiser step and reorganised and incorporated them in the Chekiang army.

Originally he had no idea of incorporating these troops in the Chekiang army, but Chi Hsieh-yuan's attitude made it impossible to send these troops home, and he had to keep them in Chekiang.

Asked whether there was not some basis for negotiation on the Chihli peace party's terms, Lu Yung-hsiang laughed, and said that the thought of negotiating on the basis of these terms (which were that he should become Inspector-General of Cheki-ang and Fukien and that General Ho Feng-hua, his Lieutenant in Shanghai, should become Tschun of Chekiang, and that Shanghai and the 11 shien be returned to Kiangsu, and that all independence should become void) amused him.

POWDER MAGAZINE EXPLODES.

FIFTEEN PERSONS KILLED.

(Reuter's Service.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 31.
Fifteen persons were killed by the explosion of a powder magazine at Makrikey, near San-Stefano. The cause has not yet been determined.

TUBERCULOSIS.

WHAT INOCULATION HAS DONE.

[By S. D. Collingwood.]

One hundred and seventeen deaths a day was the levy exacted by tuberculosis from England and Wales in 1922.

To meet this assault upon the youth of the nation—for it is the young who are the most frequent victims—three methods of defence have been suggested.

There is first that general improvement in the hygiene of life which has been going on for the better part of a century and has reduced the tuberculosis deathrate from more than 3,000 per million of the population, the
to its present level of about 1,100.
But statistics show that even if the general standard of life could be raised to that at present enjoyed by the professional classes, a 50 per cent fall in the tuberculosis deathrate is the utmost that could be expected.

Secondly, there is the method of isolation. There is general agreement that if all the people, who are suffering from open tuberculosis, and are thus capable of spreading the infection, were confined in suitable hospitals, the disease could be stamped out in a generation.
But it would be impossible to provide accommodation for so vast a host of patients, nor would public opinion tolerate so ruthless, and permanent a breaking-up of families.

There remains the method of preventive inoculation.

In 1882 Koch discovered the tubercle bacillus. And yet Professor Karl Pearson, writing in 1911, was forced to the admission that "the relative number of deaths from phthisis has not been diminished by the campaign against the tubercle bacillus."

To anyone with inside knowledge the reason for this is not far to seek. Doctors as a class have not made use of the weapon which Koch put in their hands forty years ago.

In other fields preventive inoculation has won important victories—against small-pox, against typhoid, against the pneumonia which used to decimate the South African miners. But against tuberculosis inoculation has hardly been given a trial.

ZANNI'S PLANE.

ARRIVING HERE
TO-MORROW.

Until Major Zanni's aeroplane arrives, by the Admiral Line
"President Madison" to-morrow, the arrangements for transshipping the plane to Haiphong will not be known.

An Admiral Line representative told the "China Mail" this morning that beyond the Press cable
they did not know that Zanni's plane had been shipped from Japan. If the Company was to be responsible for sending the machine on they would certainly send by first steamer unless they had other instructions. The arrangements would be known
to-morrow.

It was reported last week that Zanni's spare plane was being sent on so that he could continue his flight and that it would be trans-shipped here by the "Chukwa Maru."

[Major Zanni and his party of round-the-world aviators have been delayed at Hanoi where his plane, crashed on taking off for Canton.
The machine turned over and was rendered useless although it was at first thought that the damage could be repaired in two days.
The plane being a land one, will not call at Hongkong, but proceed direct to Canton.]

was far advanced before the inoculation was made; all the other patients, so far as can be ascertained, are strong and well, and the eldest of them is now a boy of twelve.

Post-mortem findings make it probable that all, or nearly all, of us, contract tuberculosis at one time or another. The vast majority, however, enjoy a natural immunity, and the disease dies out of itself, before it has done any serious harm. The object of prophylactic inoculation is to bring the weaklings up to the average level of resistance, a precaution which, beyond all question, ought to be adopted in the case of children whose parents are tuber-culous, or whose environment involves a special risk of infection.

If in this way the general resistance of the population to tuberculosis were brought up to a reasonably high level, tuberculosis as a serious disease would be abolished. There would still be tubercle bacilli, but they would have lost all their power of doing mischief. For it is only by lodging itself in the bodies of weaklings that the bacillus is able to maintain its virulence. When once the weaklings have been raised by inoculation to a proper level of resistance, the day of the tubercle bacillus will be over.

MOTOR BUS AFIRE.

SEVEN BURNED TO DEATH.

DANGER OF CARELESS SMOKERS.

(Reuter's Service.)

LONDON, August 31.
Seven persons were burnt to death and five seriously injured when a motor-bus caught on fire at Nuneaton.

The bus was crowded with shoppers and burst into flames, while descending a hill.
The fire was due to someone striking a match
while the driver was filling the petrol tank.

SPAIN AND MOROCCO.

SEVERE FIGHTING REPORTED.

SPANISH FALL BACK.

(Reuter's Service.)

MOROCCO, August 31.
A communiqué from Morocco reports severe fighting to-day on the Elaiu line.
Details are lacking, but it is stated the Spanish columns fell back normally.

PROPERTY AGREEMENTS.

ORDER FOR SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

An order for specific performance and costs was made in the Supreme Court this morning in respect of agreements concerning the following properties:—134
Bonham Strand, 4 Hing Shin Lane and 38 Lyndhurst Terrace.

Mr. Campbell Prosser was for plaintiff (Lau Shun-cho, banker of 60 Kennedy road) and defendant (Wong Tsi-yin) of 29 Conduit road) was not represented.

The properties concerned in the agreement were, known as section 6 of Marine Lot No. 67, section 4 of Inland Lot No. 1976 and section 1 of Inland Lot No. 201.
The agreements were dated
Nov. 13, 1922, and Jan. 6, 1923.

Mr. Prosser gave particulars of the purchase prices paid and the payment of sums amounting to $37,800 as deposits, and said that neither of the contracts had been performed nor had any attempt been made to perform them.

Mr. H. Davison (Hastings, Dennys and Bowley) said that the firm had acted for both parties when the contracts were entered, into. He attested to their signature.

Judgment was entered for the plaintiff, as stated above.

STOLEN SHOES.

Before Mr. R. E. Lindsell, at the Central Magistracy this morning, a returned banished was arraigned for unlawful possession of three pairs of shoes at the Chinese Recreation Ground on Sunday morning. He was sentenced to four weeks' hard labour in respect of the shoes and to six months' hard labour for returning from banishment. Defendant stated that the shoes were given to him by a friend who had recently gone to Canton.

FOOTBALL.

MONTAGUE-BATES' TIE.

At 5.30 p.m. to-morrow there will be a football match on the Murray Parade ground in connection with the Montague-Bates Patronage Challenge Cup. The match is between the Drums and Signals (Red and White) and the
No. 7 Platoon (Blue and White).
It is a re-play to the second round.

FLAT TRAGEDY.

CAPTAIN AND HIS YOUNG WIFE SHOT DEAD.

A London wire of August 8 says:

Captain Thomas John Roy Geddes, Squadron Officer, Fourteenth Prince of Wales Own Scout Horse, and formerly A.D.C. to the Governor of the Central Provinces, was found lying dead on a sofa in the sitting-room of his flat in Gordon Chambers, Piccadilly.

The steward of the flats states that Mrs. Geddes came downstairs and asked him to summon a doctor, as Captain Geddes had shot himself. She then rushed upstairs and a few moments later, another shot sounded. The police were immediately on the scene, and found Mrs. Geddes shot dead, with a revolver near her, while Captain Geddes was found in another room.

The couple are described as having been affectionate and handsome. Captain Geddes was at the time on leave and was due to return to India next month.

The theory accepted by the police is probably correct is that Captain Geddes went to the bathroom where he shot, but only wounded, himself, and that, after his wife had called for help, she bent over him to give assistance, when her husband raised the pistol and discharged it at her. There are indications that Mrs. Geddes, bleeding profusely, ran from the bathroom and collapsed in one of the front apartments.

A later message states that the Police who are engaged in the mystery have not reached a unanimous conclusion as to the manner of the tragedy, but have definitely established that not both committed suicide.

A further message says:—Captain Geddes, who was found shot in a London flat, is Sir Frank Sly's Aide-de-Camp.

It is surmised that Captain Geddes and his wife entered a suicide pact, but that the wife temporarily lost her nerve when her husband shot himself, and raised the alarm, but then went up to the flat again and shot herself with a revolver. She died after being taken to hospital.

A letter in Captain Geddes' pocket addressed to his wife indicates that his suicide was due to financial troubles.

The couple were married in Bengal last year, and were most devoted to each other.

The identity of Mrs. Geddes has not been fixed. One report says that "Sir Frank Sly's daughter, Joan, married a Captain Geddes last year, while another says she was the daughter of a colonel at one time commanding the troops in Bampur.

According to the papers, police inquiries show that Capt. Geddes and his wife lived most extravagantly since their arrival in England, and their money was exhausted.

Captain Geddes was a native of Somerset, and it is understood, was related to Sir Eric Geddes. The wife, according to a friend who often entertained the couple, frequently spoke of her father, Sir Frank Sly, Governor of the Central Provinces, for whom she acted as hostess and once entertained the Prince of Wales, during his visit to India.

After an illness of only a week's duration, the death occurred on July 2, at 14, Chalmers Crescent, Edinburgh, of Mr. James Mathewson Prentiss, who was a well known figure in Edinburgh and Scottish bowling circles. Mr. Prentiss, who was 41 years of age, took ill with pneumonia, but hopes were entertained almost to the last that he would make a good recovery. Mr. Prentiss was also well known in Edinburgh in connection with the M'Ewan-Prentiss scheme, which assists apprentices and other young people to continue their education at Heriot-Watt College and also assists in providing facilities for sport. His father was one of the founders, and Mr. Prentiss carried on the scheme with energy and enthusiasm.

A Mashona Village.

Away in sunny Africa a Mashona mother, who was the wife of the chief of the native village, sat inside the kraal with her baby in her arms, telling him that dusk was falling over all Mashonaland, and that the cattle were being driven back to the village to be milked, writes Rona Davidson in "George Square Chronicle."

Jackals were whining loudly away across the waters of the dim lagoon, and rows of ripe bearded men stood quivering under the pale light of the moon, which was low down in the sky.

The native men were coming home to their wives and children after a long day spent hunting the wild beasts of the thick forests. They lit a great circle of camp fires all round the kraal to keep away the fierce animals which would otherwise steal into the village and kill those left there unprotected.

Tired out with their long day's hunting the warriors returned, joyously and noisily chattering of their latest adventures.

Goeben Refloated.

The ex-German battleship "Goeben" has been refloated and taken into Constantinople, under the Turkish flag, for repairs. She has been salvaged by Count Landi and a British crew in a British ship, the "Semper Parvus."

Count Landi, said a friend, returns to England shortly, and is going to attempt to get at the "Lusitania." The liner went down with bullion, important official documents, and jewellery worth thousands of pounds.

No diver can work at the depth the "Lusitania" lies, but the Count has invented a new diving suit which should enable divers to get to the hull of the "Lusitania" and remain there for half-an-hour at a time while they cut their way into the billion room.

World's Deepest Hole.

Near the mine in West Virginia, U.S.A., where many miners were recently entombed is the world's deepest hole. It is 7,579 feet deep, or almost a mile and a half, and was bored in search of natural gas, which is sold commercially. Until that boring was completed, the deepest hole was at Cauchow, Shensi, 7,349 feet deep. Both these borings were too small for a man to descend them. But at least two mine shafts have been sunk over a mile (5,280 feet) deep. These are the Village-Deep shaft in the Rand, and the Morro Velho shaft in Brazil, which is 6,420 feet deep. Temperature rapidly increases the deeper we go, and recent scientific tests in South Africa showed a steady temperature of 157 deg. Fahr. at 4,912 feet. The heat is much greater in some kinds of rock than others. But if we got down to 10,000 feet we should probably find the temperature at least 212 deg., the boiling point of water. The greatest depth ever measured by man is the Pacific Ocean, the lowest part of which is 31,610 feet below sea level, or 60,000 feet (11 1/2 miles) lower than the summit of Mount Everest.

A SEVERE NERVE TEST

Experiences of An English Engineer.

The menace of the submarine and the ever present danger of the floating mine ruined the nerves of many a strong man who sailed in the Mercantile Marine during the war. Mr. William J. Tomlinson, of 12, Craig street, Barrow-in-Furness, faced these perils during the whole of the war. He was second engineer in the coasting service, which saw the most dangerous calling of all. No wonder his nerves broke down, and when in addition he suffered the loss of two brothers, one who fell in France and another who sank with a British submarine, one can realise his burden. Finally, through being so run down he became a victim of influenza and pneumonia.

It was when in a condition of collapse and a complete nervous wreck he tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He had read about them, and he had also been recommended to take them. In three days he explained to a reporter, he felt them doing him good, and soon he was feeling infinitely better.

Mr. Tomlinson, who is thirty-one years old, then returned to the sea, but, misfortune dogged him, and he suffered more trouble in the death of his mother. Finally his nerves broke down again. "I was afraid to eat," he said, "not look at food, and my nerves got so bad that I could not rest at all. I always had terrible fears, and was afraid sometimes to cross the road. I imagined all kinds of things. My nerves were so bad that even the opening of a door startled me."

"I took doctor's medicine but derived no permanent benefit, and I therefore decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a few days I began to feel their good effect. I continued with the Pills and soon my appetite returned, and I was able to go out without experiencing the distressing symptoms. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a splendid remedy to give you new energy and life. I have recommended them to several people, who have all benefited as I have."

If you are a sufferer from nervous weakness, or from any other disorder arising from impure watery blood, be wise and begin to build up your own health to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for pale people. Or, if you prefer, two $1.00 per bottle, $2.00 for six bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kingston Road, Shanghai.

A Spiteful Jest.

Marie Corelli being dead, I have no desire to speak ill of her (says a writer in the "Star"). I have no real desire to speak of her at all. But her spiteful will makes it necessary for somebody to say something, and I hope that Stratford-on-Avon will speak up for itself.—Stratford is Shakespeare and Shakespeare is Stratford, and the sooner Miss Marie Corelli's brief and unimproving association with the famous town is forgotten the better for everybody. If means can be found for renouncing probate or doing some other of those mysterious legal things by which one repudiates a bad will, I hope that the "trust" which would make of Miss Corelli's house a perpetual and spiteful jest may be quashed.

Crime and Cleverness.

The latest official figures make it manifest that crimes of fraud are to-day overwhelmingly in the majority, writes H. L. Adam in the "Daily News." It is also interesting to note that there are cases where the crime of fraud is associated with some other form of crime—murder, for instance—the fraud being primary, and the deed of violence or passion an unpremeditated outcome of the carrying out of the fraud. These frauds, which have as many phases as the rainbow has hues, are becoming increasingly skillful, subtle, callous and daring. Recently a prominent Home Office official drew my attention to the remarkable cleverness of modern crimes of fraud, a result of his own personal investigations which appeared to impress him very much.

By the ancient genius was interpreted as a spirit of good or evil which presided over human beings and ruled their destiny. Thus we have geniuses good and evil; but I am concerned now only with the latter. To the geniuses of evil we are indebted for the many clever frauds of to-day. It is also the skill displayed by such wrong-doers that has given currency to the oft-repeated platitudes that had they put their cleverness to honest purposes they would have made a creditable name for themselves. Now there are two good reasons why this is not, and cannot be, true.

One is that the mere possession of skill and superlative cleverness, combined, it may be, with a few humdrum virtues, is not necessarily a passport to an honest livelihood, even when the desire for such is present. In brief, a man may not be able to obtain honest employment. In order to live honestly two things are requisite: qualifications and opportunity. The former are of little avail in the absence of the latter. I could cite innumerable cases to prove my contention.

The other reason is that the very kink which impels some men to adopt a life of crime is just the mental characteristic or trait which would prevent them from following an honest career. From these two main sources we get our geniuses of fraud.

MAIL WEEK NEWS.

ITEMS FROM FAR AND NEAR.

Mr. Lloyd George, addressing a Liberal garden fete at Hemel Hempstead, declared that there was no capital which was handled in a more unbusinesslike way than that which was invested in land.

Mr. Trevelyan (President of the Board of Education), at the coming-of-age celebration of the Workers' Educational Association said that he was working for a closer connection between universities and labour, which might help to vitalise the universities.

Speaking at Abbey Wood, Mr. Shinwell (Secretary for Mines) described the Liberal scheme for dealing with the coal problem as the biggest joke ever perpetrated on the public. It would not benefit the consumer, and neither the mine-owners nor the miners would have anything to do with it.

The coal output in the United Kingdom for the week ending June 21 was 5,173,400 tons, compared with 3,235,700 in the preceding week (Whit-week) and 5,588,200 in the corresponding period of last year.

Lieut. Col. Fox, of the London Salvage Corps, at the annual conference of the Fire Brigades' Association on July 3, said it was like a red rag to a bull to mention celluloid to him, for he thought it should not be manufactured.

The Church of St. Lawrence, High-street, Southampton, which is no longer wanted, is being pulled down, and the site is to be offered for commercial purposes. There is another church (Holy Road) within 100 yards of it and All Saints is not 200 yards distant on the opposite side. All the same it is a pity to see the old Church (which in the early 'seventies was known for its ornate High Church, ritual) should have to go.

At the Congress at Lyons the International Union of League of Nations Societies, on June 2, Count Bernstorff the German delegate, who was Ambassador at Washington at the outbreak of war, said he was delighted with the results of the British and French elections.

An "open letter," signed by the president, has been placed on the notice board of the Students' Representative Council at Glasgow University deploring the unseemly and irreverent disturbance at the recent commemoration service for the members of the university who fell in the war.

A first edition, 6 page copy, of Gray's "Elegy Wrote in a Country Churchyard," printed in 1751, at 6d., realized $1,550 at Sotheby's early last month. This is the matchless piece of literature which some Japanese "master" of English had the temerity to refer to in disparaging terms recently in one of the Japanese English newspapers.

CANTON STRIKE.

After many heroic gestures from both sides, the Canton general strike has been settled with the usual compromise. This is what we predicted from the very outset would happen, since for all their drafled threats, neither faction really wanted to force the issue. Our opinion that some middle course would be found which would prevent either side seriously losing face over the arms episode was based upon the belief that if the merchants were anxious to avoid fighting, putting business before politics, the Government was equally ready for peace, as any open conflict in Canton would have been inviting grave risks from outside. Sun Yat-sen's inveterate enemy, Chan King-ming always lurking in the background waiting for his opportunity.

This settlement is of course very important for Hongkong. While the strike lasted the Colony was suffering heavy commercial losses, the prices of certain food-stuffs had greatly advanced, and the outlook was becoming generally more anxious. Possibly this last factor was the most serious of all. Although it was felt the Government was not strong enough to precipitate a crisis by striving to disarm the Volunteers; although it was thought that bad as conditions were for the merchants the breaking point had not yet been reached, still nobody could safely predict what might happen with both sides breathing fire and the atmosphere becoming more electrical every day. One real spark and the whole precarious Canton situation might easily have exploded.

Possibly the most interesting aspect of the settlement is the further evidence it provides of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's security as Generalissimo in Canton. This security is doubtless not in any large measure due to his personal qualities to-day as a leader, but more to the jealousy among the rival mercenary factions. While Dr. Sun Yat-sen remains head of the Government the chief post is filled; the mercenary chiefs are all more or less equal. Doubtless they each have their own private ambitions. Doubtless also they will not hesitate to make a bid for the supreme position when they see the opportunity. That the general strike did not provide the opportunity seems clear from the fact that they all remained neutral. Evidently not one of them felt strong enough to dare the rest. This as we have suggested is the most significant feature of the strike, for it means that existing conditions will continue in Canton for some time to come.

Inoculation Against Tuberculosis.

During the year 1922, one hundred and seventeen deaths a day is stated to be the levy exacted by tuberculosis from England and Wales. It would be of interest to know what the figures are for Hongkong in view of the report of Lieutenant Olitzky about overcrowding and tuberculosis. In the year 1847, the tuberculosis death rate in Britain was 3,000 per million; to-day it is about 1,000. For the sake of argument we will put the Hongkong rate at the same figure. Statistics show that even if the general standard of life in the British Isles could be raised to that at present enjoyed by the professional classes, a fifty per cent. fall in the tuberculosis death-rate is the utmost that could be expected unless present methods of defence are changed. Preventive inoculation at once suggests itself. As far back as 1882 Koch discovered the tubercle bacillus. And yet, writing in 1911, Professor Karl Pearson was forced to the admission that "the relative number of deaths from phthisis has not been diminished by the campaign against the tubercle bacillus."

The reason for this is said to be because doctors, as a class, have not made use of the weapon which Koch put in their hands 40 years ago. In other fields, preventive inoculation has won important victories—against smallpox, against typhoid, and against the pneumonia which formerly used to decimate the South African miners. Against tuberculosis, inoculation appears hardly to have been given a fair trial. As an earnest that the present Government has the interest of the health of the Colony at heart, a campaign along the lines indicated offers an opportunity that should not be neglected. An article by Mr. Collingwood, in this issue, shows what has been achieved elsewhere.

The Prince.

In spite of the smiles with which he invariably greets the crowds which congregate to watch almost his every movement, the Prince of Wales must at times wish with all his heart that the lot of the heir to the British throne was not such an exacting one. How he must long at times to get away from it all and to indulge his whim or caprice without having the most minute particulars of it featured on the front pages of newspapers the world over. His most enjoyable hours are undoubtedly those which are not arranged for on the schedules which tie him down to the performance of duties. Realising as he must do that a great deal of the unwelcome publicity he gets is due to his still being eligible, the thought must often have crossed his mind that marriage might be the lesser of two evils. However that may be, so long as he remains single so too will events, perfectly objective, be construed as having a bearing on his matrimonial prospects. Much will be written and said by people "in the know" as to the secret meaning of visits to England by royal families and of visits to other countries by their Britannic Majesties. The Prince's non-committal reply to the suggestion by American pressmen on the occasion of his visit to America, that he must have gone there with the idea of selecting an American heiress as a bride, will no doubt provide them with excellent copy.

November 5.—Further extraordinary meeting of Douglas S.S. Co., Ltd., at 20 Des Vaux Road Central, noon.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Two cases of enteric fever (one British and one Indian, imported), and a case of puerperal fever were reported yesterday.

Clara Kimball Young in her latest and finest picture "Straight From Paris," is to be seen at the World Theatre to-day.

A woman was knocked down by motor car No. 611 at Queen's Road West yesterday. She was sent to hospital, suffering from injuries to her head.

A Kimberley message reports another victory for the British rugby team in South Africa. The visitors defeated the Cape Province XV by 13 points to 3.

An Amsterdam cable says the Dutch East Indies Loan was oversubscribed several times. In consequence, subscriptions will be considerably reduced.

A Chinese was sent to hospital yesterday suffering from injuries to his leg. They were received through jumping from a moving motor bus at Lai-Chi-Kok Road.

"Judgment of the Storm," the current Queen's Theatre attraction will only be shown at the 5.15 and 9.15 performances to-day. "Her Sacrifice," the Chinese picture, which has drawn so much favourable comment, will be screened at 2.30 and 7.15.

Mr. R. E. Lindell at the Central Magistracy this morning ordered ten strokes of the birch for a boy convicted of stealing a rat-basket containing clothing. An older man for a similar offence was awarded four weeks' hard labour. Both offences were committed on board the s.s. "Tai Lee" on arrival from Kowloon on Sunday morning.

A RATE WAR?

CHEAPER CANTON FARES.

CHINESE IN LUCK.

Substantial reductions in Chinese passage-money are announced for the trip of the "Fatshan" to Canton to-night, according to a notice posted outside the Steamboat Co.'s wharf this morning.

It will be recalled that only a nominal figure was charged recently for one Saturday night trip by a ship belonging to the same company. Only 10 cents per head was the fare for lower-deck passengers and 20 cents for the stern 'tween-deck (Chinese second class) space.

The figures given this morning were:—Lower deck 80 cents; Chinese second class (tween deck stern) $1.60; Chinese first-class $3.50.

Those who are interested in the river trade attribute the reductions—formerly the rates were $1.10, $2.20 and $4.00, respectively—to a rate war between the rival companies with ships on the Canton run, this being, so it is stated, the answer to the alleged refusal by another company to step into line and agree to "conference" rates.

STABBING AFFAIR.

QUARREL AT STREET FOUNTAIN.

Charged before Mr. R. E. Lindell at the Central Magistracy this morning with having on August 28, stabbed another man with a knife Li Chung was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour.

Defendant stated that he was arrested by mistake and knew nothing about the affray.

Complainant stated that after a quarrel over drawing water at a street fountain in Morrison Street, defendant stabbed him in the side with a knife and ran into a shop near by. He gave chase. A constable in plain clothes joined chase and arrested defendant in the shop.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. "Eddie" O'Connor, the star pitcher of the Hongkong Baseball Club, left for the States yesterday. Mr. O'Connor hopes to be back in the Colony within six months.

Passengers who arrived by the "President Lincoln" included Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Chambers, Mrs. J. Oram Sheppard, Dr. and Mrs. Hugo M. Smith, Mr. Robert H. Young.

Two Russians, Messrs. Nemon and Cilas, who a fortnight ago arrived in Hankow on a round-the-world walk, have started for Canton. They have been joined by a third traveller, Mr. Saburoff, who intends doing the tour with them.

Mr. Holt Gale, American Consul-General, left for the United States by the Admiral liner "President Grant," yesterday morning. There was a large gathering of friends present to wish Mr. Gale "bon voyage" and a speedy return to health.

Final arrangements have not been made regarding a memorial service in the Colony to the late Mr. A. G. Stephen. There will probably be one on Sunday but it has not been definitely decided whether it will be at the Union Church or at the Cathedral.

On August 11, at St. Michael and all Angels Church, Westcliff-on-Sea, Miss Phyllis Ethel Courtney-Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Courtney-Walker was married to Mr. Walter Higby. A reception was held, after the ceremony, at the Church Hall, at which the wedding party were the recipients of many congratulations.

Yesterday was the forty-fourth birthday of H. M. Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands. In honour of the event, the Dutch Consul General was "At Home" on Saturday forenoon, at the Consulate, when a large number of callers took the opportunity to offer their felicitations on the occasion. Practically all the Hollanders resident in the Colony were among them. All the Dutch ships in harbour were dressed for the occasion.

The Hongkong Small Investors' Share and Real Estate Company is moving to Ice House St. The Company has taken quarters on the ground floor at the junction of Ice House St. and Des Vaux Road in the place formerly occupied by the "Oke" Studio for the convenience of their clients. The company intends shortly to open an office in Shanghai for the purpose of obtaining a share of the import business transacted between the two ports. A representative will shortly be leaving for Shanghai for this purpose.

RACING NOTES.

DIVIDED OPINION ON SAND TRACK.

PROGRAMME DISCUSSED.

(By Argus.)

On Saturday and this morning the attendance at the race-course was small, possibly due to training for the next meeting only having commenced last Monday. Others attribute the meagre attendance of a morning to dissatisfaction at the "going" on the inner-course since the repairs were completed. Probably both reasons are sound. On Saturday those present included Messrs. A. A. and C. Alves, A. H. Carroll, H. Birkett, F. Sutton (Hon. Clerk of the Course), G. Matcham, G. Harriman, E. L. Hosie, A. Mezleres, E. Rock (Manager, Jockey Club Stables) and Capt. Hall.

This morning there were present: Mr. G. H. Gibson, Mr. A. H. Carroll, Captain Oxapring, R.A.V.S.C., Mr. W. T. Stanton, Mr. A. E. Alves, Mr. C. Alves, Mr. A. H. Carroll, Capt. Hall, Mr. G. Harriman.

The main topic of conversation on each occasion was the state of the new sand track.

On Saturday, it was stated that certain owners and riders had decided to boycott the management, so to speak, on account of the "dangerous state of the going" since the inner course had been repaired. I fancy the real truth of the matter is that the Stewards have received a letter of complaint regarding the sand track. At any rate, if a complaint has actually been lodged, the writer thereof may be glad to learn that the Hon. Clerk of the Course and his assistant, on Saturday, made a careful survey of the actual going, the latter riding over the course and the former watching the ponies, from the rails. In addition Mr. Birkett rode over the course. As a result of this official and semi-official survey, I feel safe in saying that it is the considered opinion of the three gentlemen mentioned that while things might be a good deal better, they might well be a good deal worse. One thing is certain that the "going" from the distance post, at any rate, is satisfactory.

As an example of the divergence of opinion on this vexed question one well-known rider said this morning: "The going has improved a lot and we shall have to reconsider our position with regard to all our grievances against the state of the course." Another said: "The course is terribly heavy, in places ponies sink to their hocks; one of mine nearly came down. If they do make a mistake, they have little chance of recovering themselves in such going." My own opinion is, as I stated last week, that at least a month should be allowed to elapse before any attempt is made to express a definite opinion as to whether the track has been "well and truly laid." However, there is no doubt sound reason for believing that sufficient care was not taken to lay the sand down to an equal depth all round the course. This difficulty can be overcome in time; already some of the sand has been scraped off in certain spots.

In the meantime the Stewards might well harden their hearts and open the grass track on Wednesdays and Saturdays, even if the "dolls" are not removed. This will allow trainers to "send their ponies along" and if the "corks" do break down, the new track cannot be blamed.

The Programme.

The programme for the fourth extra is now in circulation and should attract good fields provided sufficient riders are forthcoming. In addition to the Gymkhana Stakes and the usual handicaps over 6-furlongs and 1 1/4 miles for A. and B. classes, there is the Wokingham Stakes, on the first day, October 11, over the 6-furlong course. The conditions are:

For ponies that have started previous to the meeting, but have not won since January 1. Weight 7 lbs. with an allowance of 7 lbs. to subscription griffins.

The first race on the Monday is 1m. 165 yards for all China ponies, to be ridden by jockeys who have not won five races. Jockeys are allowed 10 lbs., but penalized 2 lbs. for each flat race won. A cup will be presented to the winning rider by that popular favourite, Spotted Sand.

Though it seems pretty certain that we shall not see Spotted Sand or Rothersey down here for next meeting, there will be further new blood.

I hear Mr. Birkett's string has been strengthened by the purchase of a Tientsin pony, named Mine-head. Mr. A. H. Carroll, who has another "old pony" due from Shanghai to-day and Mr. F. Soares has purchased a pony called Newton/Abbott. On the other hand, the absence of Spotted Sand, Friarsfield, King Canute, in the

FAMINE RELIEF.

THE FLOODED AREA.

REPORT ON CONDITIONS.

Peking, August 28.—Mr. O. J. Todd, Engineer Representative of the China-International Famine Relief Commission has just returned from a week's boat trip in the flooded area to the South of Tientsin and Peking. Mr. Todd was accompanied by Mr. C. A. Stanley of the American Board of Mission, Tientsin, and Mr. Geo. Krainukov, a Motion Picture Operator of the British American Tobacco Company. The following extracts from Mr. Todd's reports to the Executive Committee, give evidence of the serious situation that faces this vast area between Tientsin and Paoingfu.

The route taken was from Tientsin up the Shi Ho, to the town of Batai, 100 li to the South-west; from there a Western course was taken through the Lakes into the Ta Ching Ho, which stream was following for the most part, into West Lake, the objective point being the City of An Jon (An Hsin) the county seat of An Hsin Hsien. In the course of this trip data was gathered continually regarding the stage of water as compared with that of 1917, and the statement that in West Lake-region the high water of August 2 to 10 was 2 feet higher than that of the maximum height of 1917 found general endorsement. On my previous trip to this same City on August 1 the statement was then made that the water was up to a point 6 inches lower than the 1917 high mark. Every evidence, that we found on this trip, indicated that there had been a rise of another 2 feet or more; while on August 1, 120 out of 150 towns of An Hsien were under water; at present the entire county is inundated, the main dyke on the North of West Lake having been over-topped. At the City of An Jon we called on the Police Commissioner and found him busy in superintending the housing and feeding of approximately 900 refugees women and children, whom he had brought in from the adjoining villages. Rowing out past many of these villages we found the water to be into the houses and the people living on roof tops.

Where wave action endangered the buildings the people had been removed to the City of An Jon and Shi Hsien. These whole regions from Paoingfu on to Tientsin and to the North of the great Wen An Wa dyke are a great lake. Fall crops are drowned almost totally throughout this region. Hemp, that was nearly ready to harvest and which has been covered with from 6 to 10 feet of water, is being rescued from boats by divers who dive down and pull it out by the roots, afterwards taking it to other villages in small boats. The reed crop, which is considered valuable for mat making, roofing and fuel, has been injured to a great extent, for under ideal conditions reed should be grown with a small amount of water around the roots. To the South of the great Wen An dyke the region is being gradually inundated from water coming from the Putaho, 100 li to the South of Suchow. 50 li North of Wen An Shin we found the water rising at the rate of 3 inches per day, but still 3 feet lower than in 1917, due to the fact that this Northern dyke has been well matted and has not yet broken. However, the City of Wen An Shin is surrounded by water, although crops in the North-west portion of this county are being protected and are on higher ground so that they should be harvested with no difficulty.

Little distress was noted, due to the fact that there probably is a small food supply left over from last year and the spring wheat crop, which appears to have yielded 50 to 100 catties per mow, which is 50 per cent. of a normal crop. While this supply lasts the inundated population will get on fairly well, although there are many portions of this region that do not raise wheat and so they have been entirely depending on the Fall crop which is a total failure throughout the most of this region.

The only occupation of these people at the present time is a little shipping, fishing, and mat weaving. This furnishes employment for a comparatively small portion of the population.

Dynasty Stable) and Rothersey from the Dyer and Belth string are bound to be noticed.

Personal.
Mr. Henry Humphreys, who is at present in England, has successfully undergone a serious operation in London, and is expected back before the end of the year. His friends will be glad to hear that he was fit enough to be playing golf when the mail left. "All will regret to hear that there is little likelihood that Major White, D.S.O., will be seen in the saddle at the next meeting." At one time, he was confident that the Autumn would find him once again at his favourite pastime, but his many friends will be sorry to learn that his leg requires further time still.

WORLD FLIGHT.

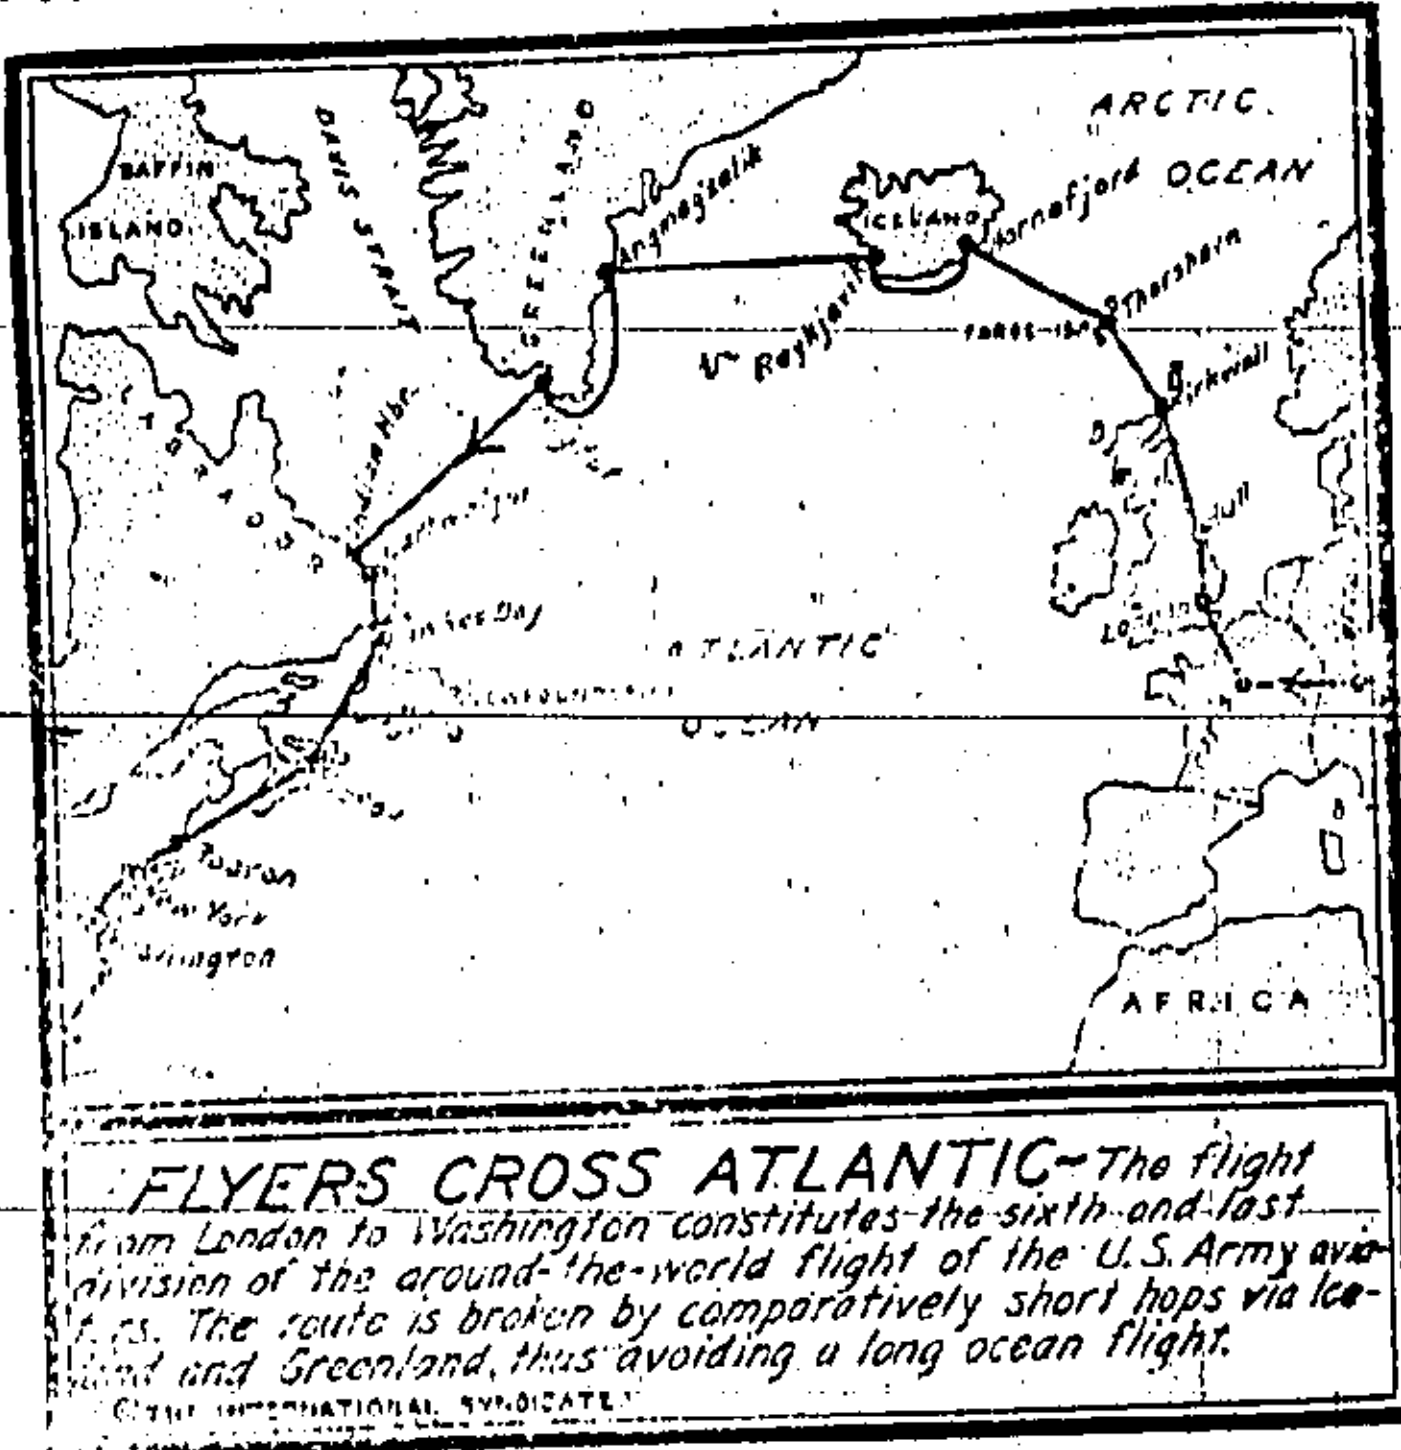

AMERICANS REACH LABRADOR.

MEET FAVOURABLE CONDITIONS.

Time Under Eight Hours.

(Reuter's American Service.)

Halifax, August 31.
The American world-fliers arrived at Iqaluk Harbour, Labrador, from Greenland at 2.18 p.m. to-day. All are well.

Earlier.

The United States cruiser "Richmond" reports that the two American world-fliers, who left Iqalut, Greenland, at 6.29 for Labrador, were sighted at 11.31. They were then about half way across the Atlantic and conditions were favourable.

IS IT WAR?

SITUATION IN CHINA IS GRAVE.

FOREIGN BOATS SEIZED.

The following from the "North China Daily News" of Wednesday shows that the possibility of war between Kiangsu and Chekiang were considered serious. The Shanghai paper says:

News received from Soochow yesterday states that one of the Asiatic Petroleum Co.'s launches flying the British flag has been commandeered by the troops.

Mr. J. E. Jovino, general manager in Shanghai of the Yangtze Inland Steam Navigation Co., informs us that he received news yesterday, by letter from Chekiang, that 13 of the Company's passenger launches and boats had been commandeered by Generals Ma, Huang and Yang for the transportation of Chinese troops, and that coal had been commandeered from the Company's depots. The Yangtze Inland Navigation Co. is registered at the Italian Consulate-General here and its vessels fly the Italian flag. The Company has been in existence for 10 years and is engaged in the business of carrying passengers by steam launches and tow-boats from treaty ports to inland towns on river tributaries.

Later information received by Mr. Jovino is to the effect that the steam-launches "Heng-lung," "Heng-chi," "Heng-li," and "Chiang-li" were commandeered by Gen. Ma at Tsingkiangpu. The "Kiang-li" was to have left Tsingkiangpu on Monday and tickets had already been sold, but the passengers could not remain on board the vessel, owing to the threatening attitude of the soldiers, the local agents were powerless to interfere. The launches "Heng-to" and "Heng-an" were commandeered by Gen. Huang at Yangchow, the "Heng-yue" and "Chuan" by the Shipping Bureau at Nanking, the "Heng-foo" by Gen. Ma at Wuhu, and the "Heng-yue," "Zung-lee," "Keng-kwan" and "Heng-ching" by Gen. Yang at Chinkiang.

It is said that all of these boats are being used to carry soldiers to Kiangyin, Nyinging, Liyang and Hainoh.

Launches belonging to other Companies received similar treatment, with the exception of those of the Tai Sung Chong Co., a Japanese firm.

"Sicawei Observatory" reports that it has received no telegrams from the Yangtze Valley, since Monday.

EFFECT ON BUSINESS.
Business in Shanghai has in all, or most, departments been so dull for some time now that the "war rumours" cannot be described as having any great unsettling effect. The dollar exchange shows a steady rising tendency, and this should continue in view of the extra demand for the payment of troops. In ordinary times, these payments always have been precarious, but with serious work, or a pretence at it, in view, it is up to the rival commanders to see that the soldier is promptly paid, the dollar always having been an important element in Chinese warfare. Hence, the heavy demand for dollars, and the rising rate.

As in general business, so on the money market, the war rumours have had little or no effect on an already moribund market. The misfortune of the June settlement put a check on gambling and the market tumbled very considerably. At the moment, the business doing is only on a small scale, and chiefly in debentures. But this slackness is not unusual at this holiday season, and the moribund state of the market is not entirely the cause of the fall in affairs.

WEDDING BELLS.
WAY—MARSH.

At St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, on Saturday last, the marriage took place of Miss Clara Avice Marsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Marsh, of Kingsclere, Kowloon, and Mr. John Roy Way, of the Hongkong Electric Company, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Way of Auburn, Melbourne, Australia.

Miss Frances Massey and Miss Margaret Gerrard were the bridesmaids whilst Mr. A. T. Stubbs acted as best man, the bride being given away by her father.

The bride wore a dress of ivory satin chameuse trimmed with silver leaves and pearls draped at the side with orange blossoms—tulle veil with band of silver leaves with orange blossom hanging from each side and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies.

The bridesmaids' dresses were blue georgette over blue satin with blue georgette hats to match trimmed with violet flowers, and they carried bouquets of pink roses and blue pansies.

Mrs. Marsh wore a dress of mauve crepe-de-chine trimmed with Italian lace.

After the ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. G. R. Lindsay, an adjournment was made to "Kingsclere" where the usual toasts were honoured and the happy couple the recipients of congratulations and good wishes.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Way left for Repulse Bay where the honeymoon is to be spent. The bride's travelling dress was of mauve georgette with hat to match. The wedding cake was supplied by Café Wiseman.

SMALL FIRE.
EUROPEAN HOUSE OUTBREAK.

No. 8, Wanchai Gap Road, a European tenement, occupied by Mrs. Whigton, was the scene of a fire about 10.20 last night which was put out before the arrival of the Fire Brigade.

Starting in the basement it is thought the fire caused by a carelessly discarded cigarette end. Both the Central and Wanchai stations sent contingents but, as stated, their services were not required.

TIRED OF LIFE.
LUNATIC JUMPS INTO HARBOUR.

Having reached the age of 41 years, a Chinese yesterday decided to commit suicide. Accordingly he jumped into the harbour from Praya Central. He was seen by Indian Constable No. 68, however, who jumped in after him and effected a speedy rescue. The would-be suicide was later found to be insane.

SETTLED.
CANTON STRIKE OVER.
"Business As Usual"

BOTH SIDES AVOID FORCING ISSUE.

Through the news not getting round in Canton till very late on Friday night the shops on strike did not re-open their doors on Saturday morning, although the basis of an understanding had been reached. This delay was mainly responsible for the conflicting reports current in Hongkong on Saturday morning but it has by now been definitely established that the strike is over.

General Fan Shek-sang, commanding the second Yunnanese Army and Lieut-General Liu Hang-chiu, commander of one of the divisions in this army, were mainly responsible for the settlement. Some who claim to be well informed make out that it is the Yunnanese leaders' threatened neutrality, an attitude that must have weakened the Government's hand, caused Dr. Sun Yat-sen to modify his attitude. It was his expressed intention not to compromise that started the rumours of actual fighting and even bombardment.

To-day Canton has resumed its normal course as all the shops have re-opened. Members of the Merchants Volunteer Corps who disappeared have sprung up again as if from nowhere and are on duty once more. "Business as usual" is the slogan to-day.

Only one disquieting feature remains and its removal should present no difficulty. It has been rumoured that the merchants offered only $200,000 as a contribution to the Canton Government's war efforts, as against the sum of $500,000 "suggested" by the mediators. The amnesty granted to Commandant Chan Lim-pak is taken to mean that he is wanted back as quickly as possible so that he can arrange for clearance of the "Hav" arms and assist in raising the full sum of $500,000 for the Government.

NORMAL SITUATION PREVAILS.

An early settlement has resulted in losses to several Hongkong wholesale vegetable dealers who hoarded up when imports from Canton began to decrease last week. Fortunately they were never able to exploit the public to any appreciable extent as smaller lots trickled through because not all of the Canton exporters went on strike. However, prices remained high till this morning when they receded to normal figures.

HONGKONG UNIVERSITY.

PEACE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS.

VALUE INCREASED.

The "China Mail" is informed by the Acting Registrar of the University of Hongkong that the value of the Peace Memorial Scholarships has been increased by a further generous gift by the same resident of the Shanghai Settlement who donated these scholarships but who desires to remain anonymous. There is now a revision in the terms of the original trust deed which provides for an increase in the triennial value of each scholarship from $1,215 to $1,350 and in the yearly sum payable to the prizeman, under clause 3(b) of the original deed, from £300 to £350. The Peace Memorial Scholarships of the above value will be awarded from the results of the University of Hongkong Matriculation Examinations to be held in November. One Scholarship for Electrical Engineering and/or Synthetic Chemistry, and the other for Practical Farming and/or Horticulture.

up because of the strike. There was little or no hindrance to European cargo as was the case during the Shamen strike. The exodus from Canton has ceased.

Details of Compromise.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Canton, August 31.
A copy of a circular issued to all shops in Canton late on Friday night asking them to resume business the next morning gives full details of the settlement between the Government and the merchants' leaders. Chan Lim-pak and other Volunteer leaders are pardoned and the order for confiscation of their property had been rescinded. Troops are to vacate the city. The Government will get $500,000 and the Volunteers their arms in accordance with the original permit.

Civil Governor Liu Chung-oi and General Fan Chung-sau, commanding the Honanese troops, are reported as having been against the settlement.

Apparently General Fan Shek-sang's better counsels prevailed. General Fan Chung-sau has been requested to remove his patrols from the Tai Ping Maloo and generally to withdraw outside the city limits.

The Honanese regulars are also reported as having displeased the Hunanese (another very strong body of mercenaries) through their cordons on the Tai Ping Maloo when the fire broke out in the western suburb. A Hunanese officer who wanted to pass through was pulled up whereupon he demanded to be escorted back to his headquarters on the other side of the river. He was ultimately permitted to go through the lines.

GAMBLER'S LUCK.
WON A FORGED BANK NOTE.

An unemployed Chinese was arraigned before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning for uttering a Singapore $10 forged bank note.

Defendant said he went to a shop in Shanghai Street to buy a hat and tendered the forged note in settlement of his bill.

Defendant stated that he won the note from a gambling den at Canton and was not aware that it was a forged one.

He was discharged.

MR. A. E. CARLETON.

ACTING U.S. CONSUL.

Mr. Algar E. Carleton has been detailed temporarily by the United States Government to take charge of the American Consulate-General at Hongkong. Mr. Carleton is well known in the community as he has been in charge of this important post in previous years.

Mr. Carleton was born in Williamstown, Vt., August 11, 1872. He was educated at Randolph (Vt.) High School and Dartmouth College. He was a newspaper reporter, 1895-1899; appointed Consular Agent at Alameda May 11, 1899; Vice and Deputy Consul-General at Hongkong April 6, 1910; Vice-Consul at Hongkong February 6, 1915. Mr. Carleton was appointed (after examination November 10, 1908) Consul of class eight February 10, 1918. He was detailed to Batavia on September 14, 1918; assigned to Medan February 18, 1919; appointed Consul of class six September 5, 1919; assigned to Amoy, September 8, 1919; and appointed Consul of class five November 23, 1921.

CORRESPONDENCE.

INDUSTRY AND THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

[To the Editor of the China Mail.]

Sir—I enclose herewith a memorandum which the Federation of British Industries has to-day addressed to the Governor of the Bank of England.

This memorandum explains in greater detail the views held by the Federation regarding the subject of a short letter sent by the F.B.I. to the Bank of England on July 9. Yours faithfully,

SIDNEY ROBERTSON,

Publicity Manager.
London, July 29, 1924.

Enclosure.

The Federation of British Industries understand that the discount rate of the Bank of England is normally varied for reasons connected purely with the ordinary functions of the Bank as the central banking institution of the country, and the Federation would regard any attempt to question the full discretion of the Governors and Court of the Bank in the exercise of these functions as highly improper and undesirable.

It has, however, recently been proposed in prominent financial quarters that the Bank Rate, not to exercise a normal and legitimate control over the flow of money, but for the purpose of an arbitrary restriction of credit, in the hope that this action might lead to the rapid restoration of the pound sterling to parity with the American dollar. The Federation believe that proposals for such an extraordinary employment of the Bank Rate are a reasonable subject for comment by the representatives of those whose interests may be seriously affected.

As the principal organisation of British manufacturers, it has been their custom to lay the views of the industry before His Majesty's Ministers when action affecting industry is under consideration, and His Majesty's successive Governments have invariably been ready to receive their views. In a similar manner, the Federation feel bound when proposals gravely affecting the welfare of industry may possibly be under the consideration of the Governor and Court of the Bank of England, to lay the views of manufacturers before them in order that they may be given due weight in conjunction with those of other interests.

They, therefore, have the honour to submit the following brief statement of views on the present position.

In the first place, the Federation of British Industries desire to state clearly that in their opinion, since Great Britain is the principal international clearing-house both for money and goods, a general return to the gold standard by the principal industrial countries would be greatly to our benefit. It would not only ensure stability to the more important exchanges, but would go a long way towards restoring the pre-war mobility of international trade and a reasonable elasticity to the internal currency system of this country.

In the present condition of the world, however, it does not appear likely that a general return to a gold standard and a free gold market can be anticipated in the immediate future. The question, therefore, must be approached on the assumption that this country will be the first to return to a gold standard and to abolish restrictions on the movement of gold. In this case a return of the pound sterling to parity with the dollar would be involved as a preliminary step.

Since the position of the exchange between two countries ultimately depends on the relative level of prices in the two countries, and since British prices are at the present moment about 10 per cent. above American prices, a return to parity with the dollar would seem to imply either (1) that the British price level must be forced down to the American, i.e., that this country must increase the value of the pound by 10 per cent.; or, (2) that the American price level must rise to the British, i.e., that the value of the dollar must be decreased by 10 per cent.

It appears to the Federation that any attempt to raise the real value of the pound sterling by 10 per cent. by a process of arbitrary credit restriction would, in the present trend of trade and prices in this country, involve the most serious consequences to industry.

The immediate consequences of an increased in the value of a monetary unit, produced not by an increase in the efficiency of production, but by a manipulation of credit, are well-known and generally admitted. They include, among others—

1. Serious temporary dislocation of trade and an increase in unemployment due to the effect upon producers, traders and buyers, of the certainty that the general level of prices will fall.

2. Severe industrial friction and dislocation, brought about by the fact that, in order that goods may be produced at the new lower level, all the items entering into the cost of production, including wages and salaries, must be adjusted to this level.

3. Severe loss to all holders of existing stocks of commodities and to all who trade on borrowed money, i.e., virtually the whole trading and manufacturing community.

4. The strong probability of a severe check to export trade, since the improvement in the exchange value of sterling would be likely to precede and to move faster than the adjustment of internal prices.

Although, as in all matters dependent on conscious human action, it is impossible to make any certain prediction that America will be unable to prevent a rise in her general price level, it appears to the Federation improbable that she will be able to do so indefinitely when account is taken of the extremely strong influence which her recent accumulations of gold must be exerting. The Federal Reserve Board has already admitted in a recent report that special steps had to be taken last year to prevent this happening, and as these measures involved, among others, the selling of the great bulk of the open market securities of the Federal Reserve Banks and the substitution of a substantial amount of gold certificates for ordinary bank notes, they can hardly be repeated on a large scale.

There appear, therefore, to be two alternative methods whereby a return to the gold standard by this country might be secured. One to take immediate steps to force up the value of the pound sterling, the other to wait in the hope that forces already known to exist will bring down the value of the dollar. The first, since it would necessitate a degree of interference with the normal operations of trade and finance that would admittedly throw a serious strain upon industry, at least for a time, does not readily commend itself to manufacturers, whereas the second, which would involve no interference with monetary conditions beyond that to which industry has been accustomed in the past, has a much greater attraction.

The Federation realise that, while a waiting policy is to the more immediate interest of the engaged in industry, it may be urged that other needs make it inexpedient that we should wait indefinitely for an upward movement in the American price level. They would point out, however, that by whatever means a gold standard is regained, the stability of this standard must be in constant jeopardy unless some agreement has been reached with the Federal Reserve Board for regulating the value of gold until such time as it again comes into general international use. In the interests of trade stability, it is preferable that such an agreement should precede rather than follow any return to a gold standard by this country.

In conclusion, the Federation desire to emphasise that the most pressing need of industry is for stability, and this cannot, in their opinion, be achieved either by an either by an expansion or by a contraction of credit by any one country acting alone, but only a general return of the principal trading countries of the world to a common monetary standard.

INDIAN MURDER TRIAL.

[To the Editor of the China Mail.]

Sir,—I have read with much interest in your paper about the "Indian Murder Trial" and the commentary views on it. Keeping aside my own view that the verdict should have been of "Manslaughter" or "Murder," I should only say that even a person of common sense would feel pity over this unfortunate man. For five or six years the fellow had been keeping his excitement confined in his powers and giving an understanding to his wife all the time to improve her character. So far as the Indian religious sentiments are concerned, it is so very difficult for a man to see his wife committing adultery and wait for so long with trying to persuade her to come back to a right path. When this poor fellow did so, if we take such cases in view, I can understand why that such cases are very rare in the Indian Community, whether in India or abroad.

Despite the fact that the deceased was a local born girl in the Indian Mohammedan community, I can say that these people also are full with their religious sentiments and have always borne the Indian chastity.

In a case like this therefore, one can easily guess how awkward the victim must have felt in dealing with his wife all the time, and an excitement so reserved or confined must surely come to a double or triple fold one day.

The verdict of "Murder" and the judgment of "Death," I am sure, will do a great harm instead of any good (for which the Courts of Justice are constituted) to the people, as husbands and the wife will have no fidelity for her legally and religiously married husband.

I therefore sympathise with the unfortunate man, as one with a little common sense should do, and appeal to the authorities that some mercy should kindly be shown to the poor creature of God and not to put him on gallows.

Yours etc.,
(Sd.) G. P. DASWANI.
Hongkong, August 31, 1924.

COLONY'S HEALTH.

[To the Editor of the China Mail.]

Sir,—With all due respect I would remind the Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak and his unofficial colleagues of something which happened some years ago.

Sir (then Mr.) H. E. Pollock, agitated for months for improvement in the Government Hospitals and an increase in the nursing staff. Thursday's Council meeting reminds me of the passages-at-arms between the unofficial representative and the late Sir Henry May.

Mr. Pollock insisted that the number of sisters and nurses employed by the Government was insufficient. He substantiated his claim by statistics, logical argument, and an unceasing fire of questions at every Council meeting. At last he got what he wanted. The Government all along pool-pooled the idea of reform but had to give in in the long run. I shall always remember the change in the local directories after additional nurses were engaged. The Government added in after the heading "Hospital-Sisters" the words "subject to frequent change."

Since we have this silent tribute to a former accomplishment, I ought to continue trying to convince the Government. I am only one of Hongkong's apathetic public but I am with you.

With apologies to future historians of Hongkong.

Yours etc.,
MARY.

WORLD THEATRE.

"A LADY OF QUALITY."

Spectacle scenes, love theme, psychology and old atmosphere of days gone by—these elements are all in "A Lady of Quality," the Universal super-jewel production, starring Virginia Valli, and directed by Hobart Henley, which comes to the World Theatre next Wednesday.

This Henley production is a special feature on an even more ambitious scale than "The Flirt" or "The Flame of Life," two former successes by the same director.

This is the second Universal screen version of a Burnett novel which Henley has directed, the first being "The Flame of Life," so highly approved by leading critics.

The period of "A Lady of Quality" is 1704, and the atmosphere is that of merrie old England. The settings, executed under supervision of Elmer Sheely, art director at the Universal City, are particularly interesting.

Milton Sills and other popular players support Miss Valli in the piece.

The Gloriously Beautiful Love Story

"A LADY of QUALITY"

In this tremendous production you will see faithfully presented on a tremendous scale—

—the ancient city of London at the height of its luxury, folly and elegance;

—the court of Good Queen Anne with its multitude of courtiers and dazzling beauties;

—the massive reproduction of Buckingham Palace and how it was used in the days of old;

A gripping love story of haunting beauty and breathless suspense, enacted by Virginia Valli, most beautiful star of the screen, with Milton Sills, supported by hundreds of actors.

"A Lady of Quality" is the reigning cinema sensation of the year.

TENNIS LEAGUE.

U.S.R.C. WINS.

On the Hongkong Cricket Club courts, on Saturday afternoon, the United Services Recreation Club defeated the Indian Recreation Club in the Tennis League.

There was a large attendance present and the contest proved most exciting from start to finish, the difference only being 3 at the conclusion of 30 games. The advocates of "too old at forty" may be interested to learn that the average age of the winners was 42 compared to 23 given as the average of the Indian players.

The Services have to thank Colonel Russell-Brown and Captain Dods for the victory. This pair won 20 games to 13, whereas Colonel Montague-Bates and Major Hattersley Smith only captured 15, and Commodore Grace and Pay Lieut-Commander Worthington 15 out of 33.

BASEBALL.

S.C.A.A. CHAMPIONS.

Many people who made the journey to the baseball diamond at Happy Valley, on Saturday afternoon, were disappointed when it was announced that the Hongkong Baseball Club (Americans) were unable to field a team against the South China nine.

As usual, the Chinese nine were ready for the fray and were quite as disappointed as the crowd when the definite announcement was made that the American nine had decided to forfeit the game. None the less the victory of the Chinese in the League, for the second year in succession, is thoroughly deserved. They are as keen as mustard and have never failed to meet an engagement throughout the season. Had they suffered defeat yesterday, at the hands of the Americans, the points for first place would have been equal. Certainly the weather has not been kind to baseball this season, but that is no excuse for the H.K.B.C. not putting a team in the field yesterday unless nine men could not be found!

AQUATICS.

V.R.C. CARNIVAL.

At the Victoria Recreation Club last night the fourth aquatic fête of the season was held. There were eleven events on the programme, and some capital sport was witnessed. During the evening, Mr. Rice of the "President Grant" entertained the audience with exhibition diving "stunts" both from the high diving platform and the spring board, which were highly appreciated.

At the conclusion of the programme, Mr. R. H. B. Mitchell kindly distributed the prizes, after which dancing was indulged in to the strains of the Lyric Orchestra. The results follow:—

1.—100 Yards Hdp. (Members Aggregate): (1) Razavet, (2) Lyon.
Time, 63.2/5 secs.

A dead-heat, which was swum off after the fourth event, Lyon's time was 61 secs, Razavet 56 secs., for the first attempt, at the second attempt, Razavet won by a yard.

2.—100 Yards Hdp. (1) L. R. Pereria, (2) T. Edwards.
Time, 76 secs.

3.—50 Yards Breast Stroke (Scratch): (1) J. H. Kent, (2) J. Johnstone.
Time, 35.2/5 secs.

4.—50 Yards Hdp. Girls: (1) E. Allen, (2) Mand George, (3) Doris Hunt.
Time, 1m. 31.3/5 secs.

5.—Running Header from Spring Board: (1) C. Mackenzie (90), (2) Dunern (94).
Time, 2m. 36.2/5 secs.

6.—200 Yards Hdp.: (1) B. Rasmussen, (2) D. Lyon.
Time, 2m. 36.2/5 secs.

Lyon, who started 9 seconds after Rasmussen, finished in the time of 2m. 26.2/5.

7.—Ladies High Dive: (1) Miss D. Puncheon (97), (2) Miss G. Ramsay (95).
Time, 35.3/5.

8.—50 Yards Back Stroke Hdp. (Members): (1) J. Johnstone, (2) E. A. Noronha.
Time, 35.3/5.

9.—100 Yards Hdp. Ladies: (1) Miss Muriel Blunsdon, (2) Miss B. George.
Time, 35.3/5.

GOLF.

J. B. ROSS WINS.

After many postponements due to bad weather, the Royal Hongkong Golf Club Summer Meeting opened on Saturday afternoon, when the Men's Bogey Competition was played.

The entries were only moderate and the contest resulted in a win for Mr. J. B. Ross, the Club Captain, with a score of 2 up.

The weather was grilling and one competitor was completely knocked out by the heat and had to withdraw from the competition early in the afternoon.

The ground was very hard and the grass off the fairways long. Mr. Ross was the recipient of many congratulations on his fine performance, which augurs well for Hongkong's chances in the coming interport contest.

Now that Mr. Ross has returned to form, he will soon be back on the plus 2 mark again.

Mr. A. B. Stewart was second with a card of "all square."

The meeting continues to-day and the prize distribution takes place this evening.

MR. T. HONDA.

A WELCOME PARTY.

At the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha Mess, at Minden Road, Kowloon, a tennis party was given on Saturday afternoon as a welcome to Mr. T. Honda, the Colony's Tennis Singles Champion, on his return from Europe.

Mr. Honda was the last minute choice to fill a vacancy in Japan's Olympic tennis team, taking the place of one of his countrymen who was removed from the steamer, suffering from appendicitis, when the Japanese passed through here in the Spring en route to France.

Though Mr. Honda was not successful in the Olympic Games, he has lost none of his skill and, provided he keeps his health, will be a stiff proposition in the Colony championship next Spring.

PRINCE IN U. S.

VISIT TO PRESIDENT.

(Reuter's American Service.)

WASHINGTON, August 31. Immense cheering crowds greeted the Prince of Wales on the occasion of his visit this afternoon. He drove triumphantly to the White House, where he was welcomed by President and Mrs. Coolidge. Introductions were carried out by Mr. Hughes, who then left the Prince to his hosts with whom he lunched and remained a couple of hours. The Prince departed for Long Island later in the afternoon. In a message to the people he reminded them of the holiday nature of his visit and expressed delight at the cordial reception given him.

LONDON PACT.

AGREEMENT SIGNED.

SCENES IN REICHSTAG.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, August 30.

The London Pact has been signed at the Foreign Office.

The Pact of London was signed at one o'clock to-day—five documents, namely the protocol and four annexes. The delegates signed in alphabetical order, the British Empire delegates following Sir Eyre Crowe, who signed on behalf of Britain. The Dominions were represented by their High Commissioners and other Powers by the Ambassadors and Ministers. The signing of the Pact was of the briefest and most informal character. There were no speeches. The American Ambassador was present but did not sign.

REICHSTAG DEBATE.

Berlin, August 30.

Ludendorff was one of the most excited participants in the Reichstag debate. When the result was announced he walked out with a red face, gestulating violently.

He called to Admiral Brueninghaus: "This is a scandal for Germany. Ten years ago I won the battle of Tannenberg. You, to-day, have won the Jewish Tannenberg." The Admiral replied: "Your Excellency, history will decide that," and turned his back on Ludendorff.

The Reichstag adjourned until October 15. The debate on the Tariff Bill was dropped, as the Communists who opposed the measure left the House bodily, and consequently there was no quorum.

TRIUMPH OF COMMONSENSE.

London, August 30.

The papers do not display any tendency to enthuse over yesterday's Reichstag decision, and there are only a few comments thereon. The "Times" describes it as a triumph of commonsense.

Refusal to pass the Bill would have rekindled bitterness against Germany in every quarter. The "Daily Chronicle" observes that great injury may be done to British industry if Germany gives way to pressure and concedes the commercial advantages demanded by the French.

The "Daily News" points out that in view of France's present unprecedented prosperity she can afford to be generous and wise as well as exacting and just. The "Morning Post" opines that the Dawes scheme is bound to be the cause of misgivings, but only in Allied countries, for despite her obligations Germany is now a free agent.

LAMENTABLE SPECTACLE.

Paris, August 30.

French correspondents in Berlin describe the Reichstag debate as a lamentable spectacle of blackmail, intimidation and bargaining, which has lowered the prestige of the Reichstag at home and abroad and made the Nationalists worse than ridiculous.

They declare the Nationalists voted as they did because they feared to face fresh elections. Pertinax says the bargaining between the People's Party and the Nationalists dispirited once and for all the illusion that Republican Germany is resolved peacefully to acquiesce in the European solution of 1918.

MILITARY EVACUATION.

It is announced that the French Government this evening, or at the latest to-morrow, will issue orders for the military evacuation of the Dortmund and Hordel area, also strips of territory outside the Ruhr occupied since January 11, 1923.

The military evacuation will proceed pari passu with the economic evacuation, which is estimated to last several weeks.

NEW BANK.

Rome, August 30.

Herr Schacht, a Director of the Reichsbank, who has arrived to confer with the Italian Finance Minister regarding the new bank required under the Dawes plan in respect of Italo-German trade relations, told Pressmen that Italy's collaboration in solving the economic problems was most valuable for Germany and he was convinced of the utility of collaboration by the great central issue banks.

Paris, August 31.

In order to note officially the promulgation of six laws enforcing the Dawes plan the Reparations Commission meets on September 1. The time limit stipulated by the London agreement for the economic evacuation of the occupied regions also operates from September 1. Collection of Customs duties on the frontier between occupied and non-occupied territories ceases on September 9 and measures initiated in order to check traffic at the frontier will be suppressed on September 29.

Cologne, August 31.

It is understood that the handing over of the German railways to a new company under the Dawes scheme has been tentatively fixed for October 9. This does not apply to the rails, which will be handed over two months later.

WEEKLY SHARE REPORT.

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor report:

Our market has continued very strong during the past week and a large number of shares have changed hands. All investment stocks are in strong demand with few sellers.

The Shanghai market is quiet. The following are the principal alterations since last week:—

Hongkong Banks.—Have risen to a buying rate of $1200 without attracting sellers.

Unions.—Are very firm and have had a smart rise closing with buyers at $332 and more would be paid to obtain shares.

Hotels.—Are also very firm and a large number of shares have changed hands at $24 for Old and $23½ for New shares cash, and $24½ and $24 respectively for October.

Hongkong Lands.—A large number of shares have changed hands at rising prices, but at the close are slightly easier with buyers at $119 cash and sellers at $121 for September.

Humphreys.—Are in good demand and have risen to a buying rate of $23½.

Cements.—Have again eased off closing with sellers at $26 for Combined shares.

Kowloon Wharves.—After rising to $20 cash, close rather easier with sellers at $218.

Hongkong Docks.—A large number of shares have changed hands at rising prices closing with buyers at $167 cash and corresponding rates for forward.

Shanghai Docks.—Continue firm at quotations.

Hongkong Electric.—Are very firm with buyers at $41½ and probably more would be paid.

Hongkong Trams.—Have again risen to a buying rate of $42½.

Peak Trams.—Continue in strong demand but no shares are obtainable.

China Sugars.—Have been more or less neglected during the week and few shares have changed hands.

China Providents.—Are strong with buyers prevailing. The Old shares are wanted at $16½ and New at $5 10.

China Lights.—Have also had a smart rise and are wanted at $17½ for Old and $11½ for New shares and $24½ for Combined.

Dairy Farms.—After rising to a buying rate of $28½ eased off slightly, but are again in some demand at the close with buyers at $27½.

Lane Crawfords.—Have been done at $18½ and more shares could be placed at this price.

Steamboats.—After coming to business at $50 cash and $52 for October, are slightly easier at $48 for October with probable sellers at $49.

London Quotations of the 28th inst:—Hongkong Banks $137.10/-, Indos Deferred $13. Shells $3.18/- All middle prices.

DENIAL OF HISTORY.

Paris, August 31.

An official communiqué says that while the German proclamation denying war guilt has not yet been received, the French Government protests energetically against the thesis, conflicting with facts, also with the terms of the Treaty of Versailles. The facts are that a decade ago Germany attacked without warning a heroic country, whose neutrality ought to have protected it, while France of her own accord withdrew her troops ten kilometres inside the frontier.

Denial of these facts renders a disservice to the cause of truth.

COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS.

An official statement says the Reparations Commission has appointed the American, Mr. Owen Young, as interim Agent General for Reparations Payment; the Belgian, M. Delcroix, as Trustee of Railway Bonds; the Italian, Signor Nogara, as Trustee of Industrial Bonds and Mr. Macfadden as Commissioner of Revenues from Pledges.

ELUSIVE BOLSHEVIK.

YUGO-SLAVS TRAVELS.

(Reuter's Service.)

NAIROBI, August 31.

A Yugo-Slav, reputed to be a dangerous Bolshevik propagandist among the negroes, boarded a liner at Aden booking for Tanganyika. The police were waiting to seize him, but he escaped when the liner called at Mombasa, landing at night in a small boat, leaving his luggage behind. He was traced to Uganda travelling on a goods train, which stopped in a wild game country, where the Yugo-Slav disappeared although police closely watched the railway. A few Indians on the train were compelled to wash their faces lest the fugitive was disguised as an Indian. A photograph of the Yugo-Slav was taken by an amateur cinematographer aboard the liner and exhibited privately to a Nairobi audience. A police reward is offered for his capture, but all efforts hitherto have been fruitless. The Yugo-Slav is of swarthy complexion and easily disguisable as an Arab, Indian or Goanese.

CRICKET AT HOME.

PLIGHT OF WORCESTER.

(Reuter's Service.)

LONDON, August 30.

The match between Worcester-shire and the South Africans was opened to-day at Worcester in sunny weather on a soft wicket. Worcester batted first and scored 87. Blackenberg taking six wickets for 11. When stumps were drawn the South Africans had scored 234 for seven wickets, Nourse hitting up 90.

INDIAN DISASTER.

MANY KILLED IN RAILWAY SMASH.

LAHORE, August 30.

Hitherto it has been ascertained that ninety-five were killed in the Montgomery railway disaster. No first class or second class passengers were killed or injured. A European child was thrown off the line by its mother and was picked up unhurt. The accident was due to the wrong line being signalled clear.

This unconventional picture of the American Senator, Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, Vice-President candidate on the La Follette progressive ticket, and his family was snapped at South Wellfleet, on Cape Cod, when they were "summering." Senator Wheeler, who is resting up for a strenuous campaign, declares he was a winner for his party, especially in the West. In the group are Edward, 10; Elizabeth, 18; Mrs. Wheeler, Dick, 5; Senator Wheeler, Frances, 6, and John, 15.

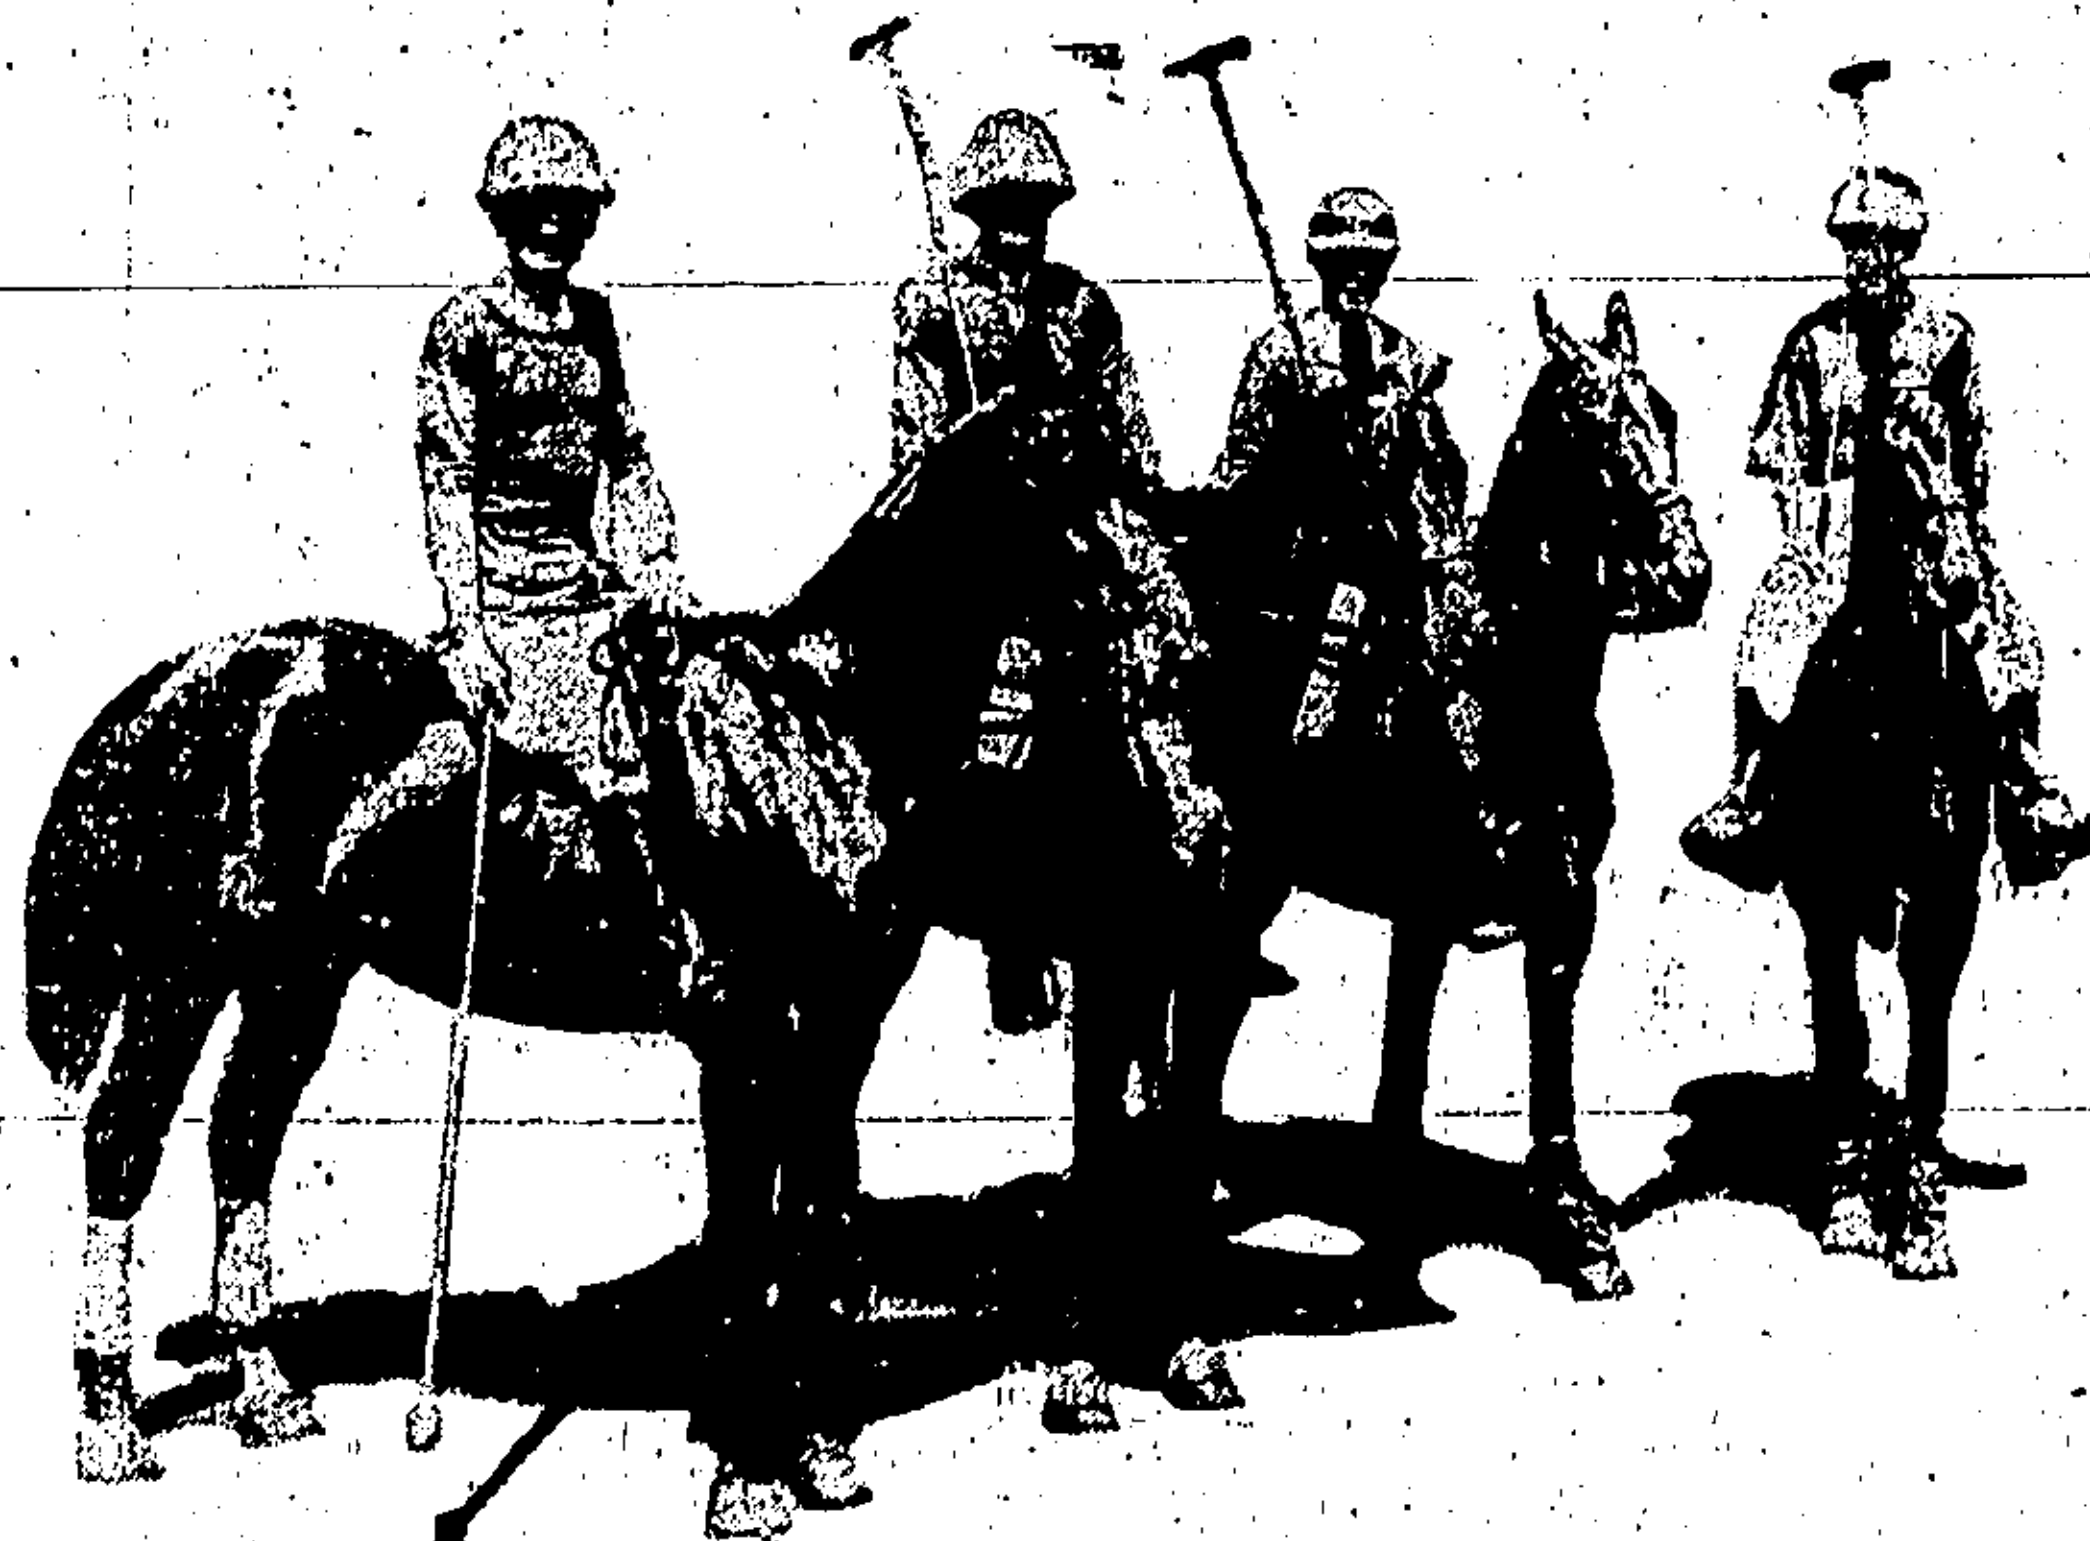

RAYMOND MAYS.

Here is one of the most remarkable photographs ever made. It was taken at the speed hill climb of the South Wales Auto Club at Caerhilly, near Cardiff, Wales, when Raymond Mays, driving his racing car at 65 miles an hour, had the back axle of his car break in two. The car fortunately kept the road, and Mays was able to stop it without injury to himself. The photographer snapped his picture just as the rear wheel flew off.

Assistant State Attorney John Sparbro is shown on the witness stand, in Chicago, reading to Judge Caverly the confessions of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb to the murder of little Robert Franks.
